CHILD & YOUTH PROGRAMS

The Child Development Center (CDC) is designed to meet the individual developmental needs of military children by offering quality child care. The CDC provides low adult-to-child ratios that support quality experiences for young children; on-site. The CDC supports parent involvement and works with a team of professionals to ensure the inclusion of all children. All Navy operated programs use The Creative Curriculum, a standard curriculum model designed to support individualized planning for children while guiding their learning as meaningful and purposeful experiences. This research-based curriculum approach fosters early brain development and school success thus providing continuity for military families adapting to frequent moves between installations. The CDC offers full day care for children 6 weeks to 5 years old. Staff work in partnership with parents to meet each individual child's needs in a safe, healthy and nurturing environment. Hourly care is available.

The Youth Center has a variety of things to do to help meet everyone's interests from kindergarten through age 12. Patrons can participate in arts & crafts, music, drama, science & technology, reading, and sports & fitness. When the weather allows the children will go outside and play on the large playground structure or they can ride bikes, work in the garden, or participate in group games.

The Child & Youth Program also offers special programs for youth ages 13-18. Our Teens Trips & Tours program meets 1-2 Saturdays a month and participates in various activities such as going to see a movie, eating out, or going to a water/theme park.

This is our website so that parents can get on the waiting list for military child care.

The School Liaison Officer (SLO) serves as the communications link between military families with school-aged children, the command, and local school districts. As the "point person" for educational issues, the SLO is here to assist military families in addressing school-related issues.

Whether you are part of the Navy or some other branch of service, active duty or reservist, living on base or in the community, the SLO is here to ensure that your child has access to the full range of services available in the local public schools. In addition to providing information about local public schools, the SLO also works to assist families who choose educational alternatives such as homeschool, private or parochial schools, independent study, or online programs.

The local school district has worked diligently to assist military families as they transfer to this area. Most of your questions can be answered by local school administrators and/or office staff. The links to the local schools have been provided to assist you in making important decisions about your child's education. However, should you find that the information does not address an issue that is specific to your family, please do not hesitate to contact your SLO for assistance.
